

WELCOME TO THE ARACHNOIDITIS BULLETIN

“Taming Humanity’s Worst Pain”

Heretofore, arachnoiditis has been considered a rare disease with no effective treatment or hope of betterment.

Neither premise is now true. Modern diagnostic tools have shown that arachnoiditis is neither rare nor untreatable. Treatment protocols have been developed and are constantly being updated so that every arachnoiditis patient can attain at least some relief and recovery.

The arachnoiditis education project is sponsored by the Tennant Foundation. This Bulletin is published 1 to 2 times a month and e-mailed to interested parties. Material in these Bulletins may be reproduced.
